

“Troubling Conversations in Everyday Settings”

(1-day Introduction)

About WiYN?

We hold intra-community dialogues in areas facing challenges. We tell stories in a way that disrupts division.

On this training day, explore:

What happens when we hear something that troubles us in the course of our everyday work? How do we choose the safest, most appropriate response? If we choose to start a conversation, how do we do it?!

By the end, you will have:

- increased understanding of options available when hearing troubling comments around race, immigration, culture
- knowledge about and practice in how to respond
- greater confidence responding in conversations
